BLOOMFIELD SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

BLOOMFIELD, NEW JERSEY

FOR RENO

R something ineffable will always keep Bloomfield High School close to our hearts. This something, which we shall call Spirit, is composed of many contributing factors. Part of it is the old familiar building itself. We will associate our fondest memories with its halls and its classrooms, the assembly and the lunch room, the gym and the library. The school itself, then, is the visible portion or the home of the spirit. The faculty has been a definite part of this intangible molding force. Because our teachers have taken an interest in each one of us, we have steadily grown. They have been one side of a team designed in a purpose to help us live happier, fuller, and more worthy lives. We have changed both mentally and physically since that first school day in September, 1949, to become at last seniors. Now we have reached the last rung in the learning ladder. Where have we shown this spirit? The answer is school activities, the outlet to our expressions. We have all been active: a spectator or a participant in varsity sports, a player on an intramural sports team, a member of an academic or a service club, or any other activity. Together, all of these things make up the spirit of Bloomfield High School.

This spirit or mood has done many things for us. It has given us delightful social affairs and pleasurable entertainment. We have made many good and lasting friendships. By working together, not for personal gain, but for our school, our characters have broadened. Even from the first day we must have felt that we were a part of something. That has made each one of us eager to do his or her part, however small it may be. We will miss the congeniality of lunch periods, of classes, of study halls, of hurrying people between classes, of favorite haunts around the building. And so our Spirit has changed school life from a necessary drudgery to an interesting adventure in living.

"And gladly would he learn, and gladly teach"

Thus did Chaucer pay tribute to a teacher and to all teachers who give of themselves that others may learn.

Were it not for this desire on the part of people to drink deeply at the fountain of knowledge and unselfishly impart their learning to others, we would have no education. Civilization is dependent upon knowledge, and knowledge is dependent upon teachers.

We, of the senior class, are now beginning to realize the importance of education in our lives and the contribution of our faculty in giving us this education. We can now reflect on the counsel and guidance that has been given us over the last three years, in some instances regret we did not listen more carefully.

Faculty of Bloomfield High School, we salute you for your knowledge, wisdom, patience, and understanding. You have guided us to the threshold of life, and we hope as we go on our separate destinies to justify the time and energy you have expended on us.

ADMINISTRATION

MISS HELEN D. HOUGH
A.B., M.A.

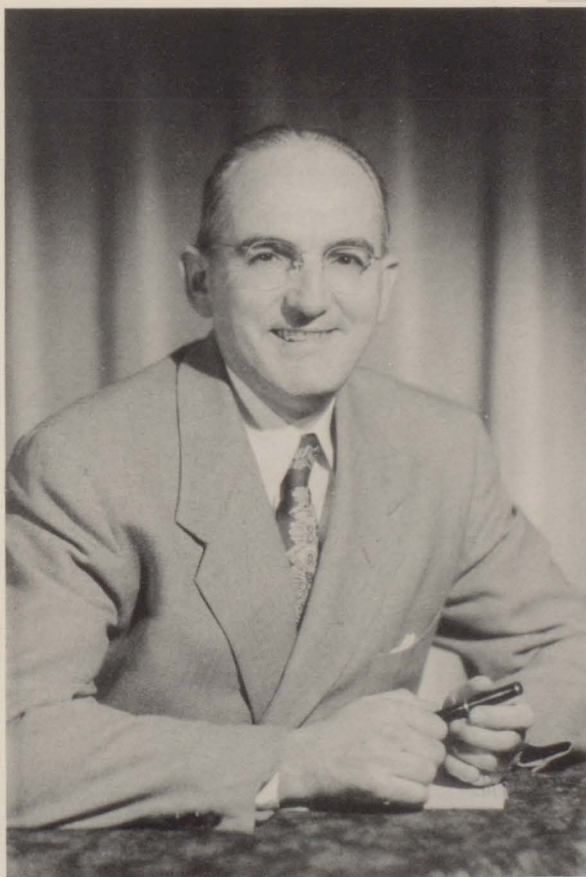

Helen D. Hough was graduated from The Girls' Latin School of Baltimore, Maryland, received the Bachelor of Arts degree from Goucher College, the Master of Arts degree in English from Leland Stanford University, and completed thirty-six points of work in the Graduate School of English at Columbia University.

She has taught in high schools in New York, Connecticut, and New Jersey, coming to Bloomfield from Lakewood High School where she was head of the English Department.

Outstanding among her memories of Bloomfield High School is the winning of the Essex County Oratorical Contest by the championship team which she coached.

Besides being an enthusiastic gardener, Miss Hough is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, a national college sorority; the Bloomfield Teachers' Association; the National Council of Teachers of English, and numerous other organizations.

The future will find Miss Hough enjoying herself at her home in Essex Fells or at her cottage on Fire Island.

MR. MAX KLEIN
B.C.S.

In 1924 Max Klein came to Bloomfield High School "to start annoying the kids," to use his own words. He had gone from Newark State Normal School to New York University from which he was graduated with honors.

He has enjoyed watching the high school grow from a small school of four grades and six hundred students into what it is today. During this time he has met many students in his classes of bookkeeping, law, and most recently—"Home and Family Living."

If you were to ask Mr. Klein about his special interests, you would find that he is an outdoor sports fan. His favorites are baseball, tennis, and ice skating.

After retirement from B.H.S. he will begin a new life in the business world. He will manage an office located just outside of New Brunswick.

In his farewell speech, Mr. Klein stated that he always wanted to be a teacher and has liked nothing better than working with teen-agers.

MISS CHARLOTTE F. DEGEN

How many girls have ever walked into the Senior Guidance Office feeling low about something? We can easily remember the wonderful help and counsel received which gave us a new outlook on our disturbing problems. Miss Degen, with her keen insight and understanding, has truly been a real friend and counselor. Full of smiles and good cheer, she has always been willing to help in any way she can. We all appreciate the advice that she has given us in helping to choose the subjects which will be most profitable in the future. As a Senior Class Adviser, Miss Degen has given freely of her time and effort. For such generosity we shall be eternally grateful. We wish to express our special appreciation for her assistance at commencement time. As we go on into life, we shall always carry with us fond remembrances of our pleasant association together.

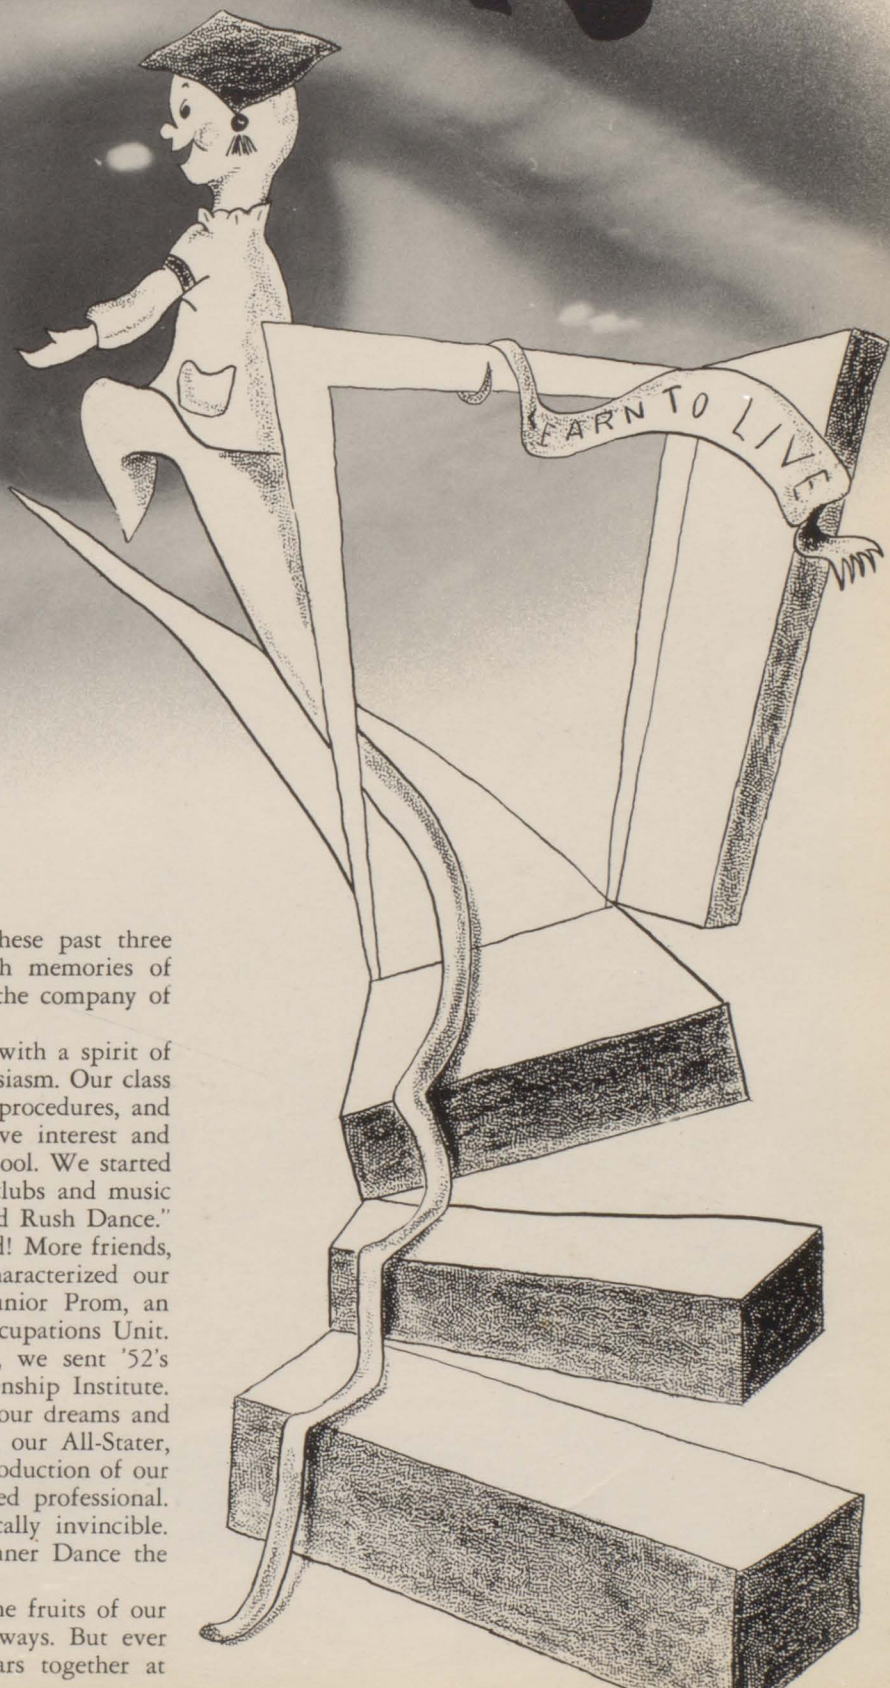

MR. FRED C. GRILL

There is probably no one in the Bloomfield High School faculty who has been more influential in the lives of most senior boys than Mr. Fred Grill. Mr. Grill has grown up with us during these three years. To him we took all our worries, fears, and problems, and we looked to him for sound advice and help in choosing our courses. His winning personality and sparkling good humor put us at our ease as soon as we entered his office. The paths which we shall take in later life are due in a large part to the talks we have had with our guidance director, Mr. Grill. He also served in the capacity of Senior Class Adviser, and his help in extra curricular activities cannot be overlooked. Mr. Grill's help with the Senior Play, the Senior Dinner Dance, and other social functions of the school has been greatly appreciated by all of us. We, the class of 1952, wish to extend to him our highest esteem and heartiest good wishes.

SENIOR CLASS ADVISERS

SENIORS

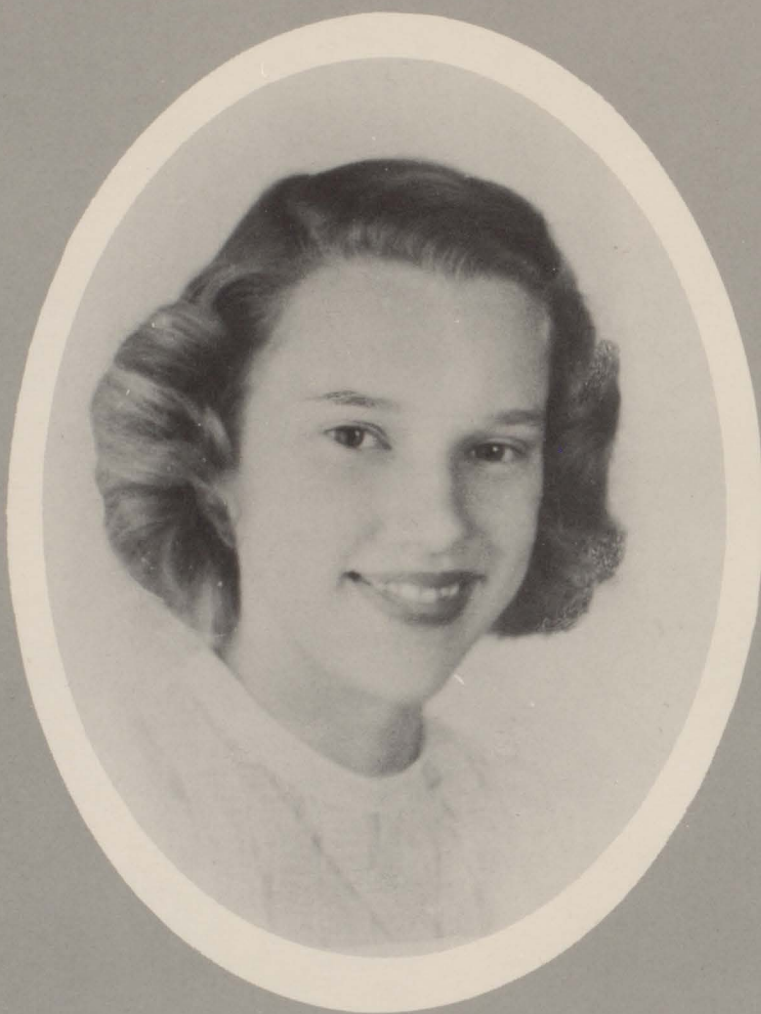

We, the seniors of 1952, know that these past three years have been our happiest. We cherish memories of happy hours spent in school activities, in the company of loyal friends and sympathetic faculty.

Our first day as sopnomores were filled with a spirit of unyielding optimism and unbounded enthusiasm. Our class soon became familiar with the school, its procedures, and its activities. Gradually we gained an active interest and began to contribute to the spirit of our school. We started by supporting athletic events. We joined clubs and music groups. In February we presented the "Gold Rush Dance." How quickly our initial year came to an end! More friends, more confidence, and more good times characterized our junior year. It was highlighted by our Junior Prom, an "Evening in Paris," class rings, and the Occupations Unit. In June, with homework and exams past, we sent '52's finest to Girls State, Boys State, and Citizenship Institute.

Our final year was the realization of all our dreams and expectations. Remember our football team, our All-Stater, the dances, and our football queen? The production of our senior play, "Arsenic and Old Lace," seemed professional. Then, too, our basketball team was practically invincible. Each of our dances was a success, the Dinner Dance the best of all.

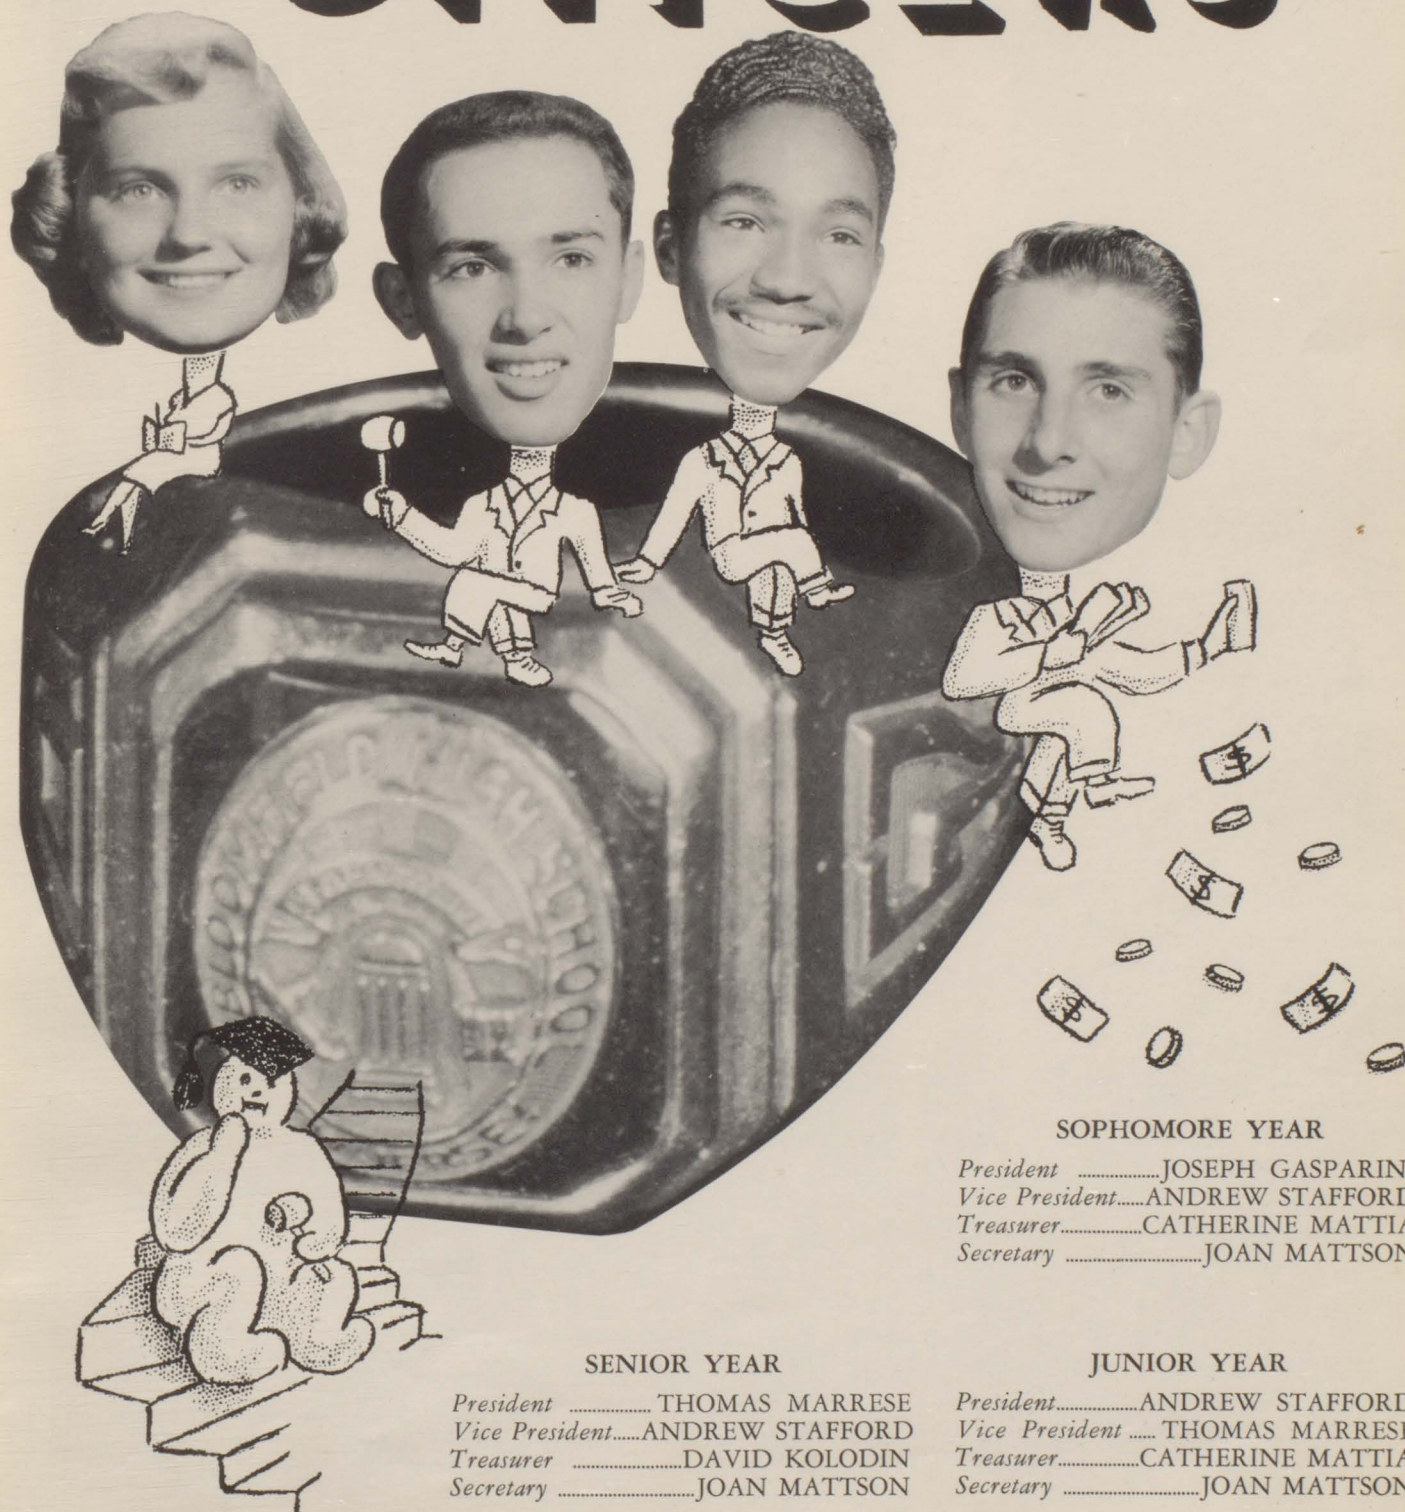

Now our place in the sun is gone and the fruits of our preparation realized as we go our varied ways. But ever with us will be the memories of our years together at Bloomfield High.

JANET LOUISE TUMBLESON

Although Janet is not with us any longer, we know that we could never forget nor ever replace her. To those who knew Janet well, she was a cheerful and sincere friend. Her sense of humor and amiability made her presence sought by many. To those who knew Janet slightly, she was one who always had a smiling face and kindly word. Within her tall and stately figure was contained a heart filled with love, thoughtfulness, and sympathy. In this book of MEMORIES and in each one's personal remembrances may she live forever.

SENIOR FORUM

On March 19, 1952, we witnessed one of the outstanding assemblies of our senior year, the Senior Forum. This forum, in which an issue of current interest is democratically discussed, is an annual program produced by and for seniors. The topic for this year was entitled "What Can the Average Citizen Do About Organized Crime in the United States." Much interest, enthusiasm, and audience response were exhibited in the question period following the speeches and intra-panel debate.

The panel, in order to become better acquainted with forum discussion, attended a session of the "Town Meeting of the Air" in New York City last February. Members of the panel were: William Pfeifer, Moderator; Arleen Eager; Jill Goldstein; Joan Mattson; Robert Barnhard; Joel Notkin; Robert Graham; George McMoran, Alternate.

The faculty advisers were Miss Katharine Williams of the English Department and Miss Ellen Hynson of the Speech Department.

MEMORIES

The production of our senior yearbook had its beginning way back in the early days of October, 1951. It was then, after much careful deliberation, that a yearbook publishing company was solicited. Soon thereafter, the gigantic project of producing a yearbook for some four hundred and thirty-seven seniors was initiated. With almost agonizing slowness, our machine finally began to gain headway. The various staffs, under the direction of our able Editor-In-Chief, gradually learned how to combine their efforts more smoothly towards their one ultimate objective. The Literary Staff will undoubtedly remember their difficulty in trying to write interestingly and authoritatively on new subjects. The Art Staff found that their ingenuity knew no bounds when they delved into the realm of their own imagination and talents.

The dependability and accuracy of the Typing Staff was a major factor towards our final success. The industry and diligence exhibited by the Photography Staff put many of us to shame. We never would have gotten along without the help of the Auxiliary Staff, which did all our odd jobs. Special credit should be given to our Sports Editor, who was responsible for all the sports coverage in the annual. Guiding the overall production of this book was the Editorial Board and its advisers. Upon them fell the burden of work-filled hours and pleasures denied, as well as the anxieties and expectations of every senior class member.

The Staff and Board are deeply grateful to our advisers, Miss Drake, Miss Fischer, and Mr. Willever, for their genuine interest and industry on our behalf.

The house lights dimmed and the curtain rose on what was to be a superb performance of "Arsenic and Old Lace" presented by the Senior Class of 1952 on the nights of December 7 and 8, 1951.

Written by Joseph Kesselring, "Arsenic and Old Lace" is a mystery comedy about two nice old ladies, Martha and Abby, who live in an old house in Brooklyn. Living with them are Brother Teddy and Nephew Mortimer. In an attempt to elude the law, Cousin Jonathan and Dr. Einstein soon arrive to add to the chaos. Mortimer, who is the only sane resident, is in love with Elaine, a minister's daughter. Despite a surplus of dead bodies, the play ends on a keynote of peacefulness as Cousin Jonathan and Dr. Einstein are returned to jail, Brother Teddy accompanied by Martha and Abby leaves for Happy Dale Sanatorium, and Nephew Mortimer and Elaine prepare to join in blissful wedlock.

Because of the small number of women's parts, the cast was doubled to enable more girls to have a part in the play. The cast in the order of their

Our high school is blessed with a large number of extra-curricular activities, but they all have certain aspects in common.

All our activities foster and nourish the growth toward social maturity, which comes through doing things together. A gradual development of character, poise, and self-confidence is achieved in these varied activities also. Many times lasting friendships are made. Numerous opportunities for leadership and development of leadership are found in clubs, music groups, and sports. Throughout all prevails a sense of good sportsmanship and comradeship. In some cases an activity may indicate a future career to a student.

Behind all of these activities flows a loyalty to our school and fellow students. This loyalty is better known by the term, school spirit. School spirit transcends our entire school life. Without it B. H. S. would be meaningless. Examples of this joyful spirit are plainly to be seen at crowded basketball games, rallies, morning class meetings, and in the many other extra-curricular activities of B. H. S.

A nod of appreciation has been well earned by those members of the faculty who have served as advisers to activities.

The 1951 edition of the Bengal eleven saw traces of their championship days as they amassed a 7 and 2 record. This fine record was a triumph for our new head football coach Warren Lowans. Coach Lowans became head coach when Bill Foley was elevated to the post of Director of Athletics.

In spite of many graduation losses from the '50 squad, Coach Lowans built a strong team of hard-working boys. The Bengal eleven walked over their first four opponents, Lincoln, Belleville, Weequahic, and Central, to become a championship bidder. However, their fifth contest dropped them from the ranks of the undefeated. An underdog Kearny team dealt them a crushing blow by upsetting them 13-6. Well, the Bengals romped over their next three foes in their typical manner. Came Thanksgiving Day and the annual rivalry between Bloomfield and Montclair. The Mounties had been beaten by the only undefeated team in Essex County, the team that later became the State Champs. This put the Bengals in a good spot to challenge the Mountie State Title. The Bengals played their most spectacular game of the season only to be beaten by the favored Mounties 20-13. This cut the Bengals' lead to only two games in this annual Turkey Day classic.

The Bengals played all-round good ball through eight of their nine contests, their only poor showing being Kearny. The Red and Gray totaled 198 points; their opponents, 64 points. The usual starting line-up for this 1951 Bengal team was as follows: Anthony Russo, senior, and Herbie Miller, sophomore, at end; Tom Powell, senior, and Bill Hardy, senior, at tackle; John Wenning, senior, and Harry Modestino, senior, at guard; Captain Dave Tintle, senior, center; Bob Rubino, junior, at quarterback; Bob Pascal, senior, and Joe Rosania, junior, at halfback; and Dave Kolodin, senior, at fullback. One great factor that helped the Bengals through a tough schedule was its reserve strength.

At the end of each season the sportswriters pick an All-Star team. When these teams were published, the Bengals received their share of honors. On the All-County Eleven were Tom Powell, Bob Pascal, Joe Rosania, Dave Kolodin, and Dave Tintle. On the All-State team we find Tom Powell, the Bengal forward wall stalwart, and Bob Pascal, triple-threat backfield man.

Aside from these standouts, shines the great coaching of Mr. Lowans and his assistants, Mr. Moore and Mr. Bouley, and, above all, the great team work which led to the best Bengal season since the State Championship team of 1945.

MARCHING BAND.

The Bloomfield High School Band has long enjoyed the distinction of being one of the best bands in New Jersey. Under the direction of Mr. Raymond W. Hartman, it has taken part in many school functions and community affairs. This band, composed of about one hundred members, is probably best known for its part in the Saturday football games. The band members work out a new formation for every home game. This year the formations included such routines as a musical clef, which unraveled the marine drill to the tune of "Sound Off," a Grandfather's Clock, and a western pageant. Thanksgiving Day found the Bloomfield and Montclair Bands working together on a traditional program. Most of the pep rallies and some assemblies find the band seated on the stage or in the orchestra pit. This year the band marched at Hallowe'en, on Memorial Day, and for the Elks Club. They were further honored by playing at the opening of the New Jersey Turnpike.

"There's a high school

CHEERLEADERS AND TWIRLERS

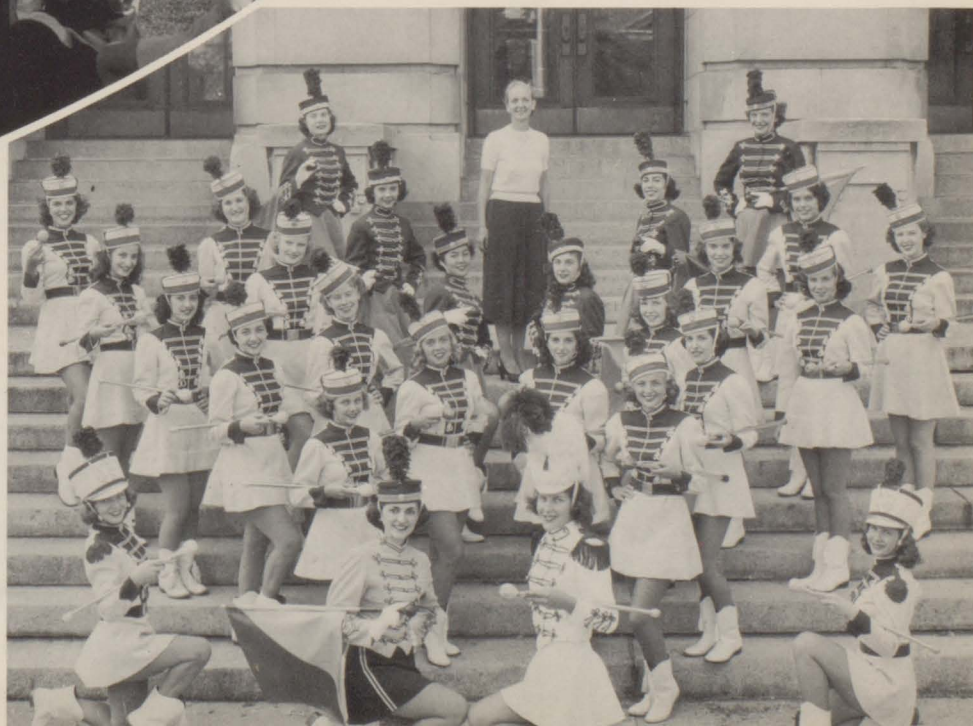

The eleven girls on the cheerleading squad help to promote school spirit by leading the student body at all football and basketball games and "pep" rallies. Meetings are held three times a week during the two major sport seasons. At these meetings the girls practice the new cheers and songs. Any girl is eligible to try out for the squad or receive instruction from the cheerleaders at their regular after-school sessions.

The nineteen twirlers led by a majorette and two minorettes supply color and precision marching with the Band at the football games. They also provide pleasing entertainment for the spectators between the halves of the football games and take part in various civic functions and school affairs.

BASKETBALL

Since Mr. Cella has taken over the reigns as head basketball coach, Bloomfield High School has been cheering the team until now it is a very popular sport. As the Bengals entered the 1951 season, they were considered the number two team. As the season waved along, knocking off Paterson, East Side, Clifford Scott, Orange, Central, West Orange, Morristown, and Ridgewood, it was apparent that a height disadvantage was present. This disadvantage showed up against Irvington, as a tall, fast Camptowner team upset the Bengals. The Cellamen began to roll along again, despite their lack of height, beating Kearny, Belleville, Barringer's Mike Conte and his crew, Columbia, and Garfield. This gave us a twelve and two record and a chance to crack Montclair's invincibles, but the Mounties' Wally Choice proved too much. The Mountie victory led to upset victories for East Orange, Nutley, and Glen Ridge over the Bengals. This gave the Bengals a twelve and six record and seeded them number five in the Essex County Tournament at Seton Hall. In the tourney the Cellamen beat Orange but lost again to Montclair in the quarter final. The Bengals lost once more in the State Tournament. The Bengal five usually started Captain Joe Gasparini and Tony Mack guards, Bob Nardone center, Joe Rosania and Bob Pascal forwards. They were ably assisted by Herb Miller, the outstanding sophomore. Leading the Bengals were their high scorers: playmaker Joe Gasparini with 237 points and backboard man Bob Nardone with 234 points. Although the Bengals never were a high scoring team, they racked up 1164 points to their opponents' 989 points. Regardless of win or lose, the Bengal fans showed up in full force, for the Bengals again had the highest paid attendance in New Jersey.

Bloomfield's old baseball form returned this season as Coach Foley's Bengals compiled an impressive record of nine wins and only two losses. Behind the stellar pitching of John "Bo" Bukowski, the Bengals rolled over Kearny, Clifton, Belleville, Nutley, Irvington, West Orange, East Orange, and Barringer in creditable fashion. Our only two defeats were at the hands of Central and Morristown. Behind good pitching and flashing defensive fielding the Bengals racked up 46 runs to their opponents' 29. In the post season Greater Newark Tournament, Bloomfield was seeded second and had compiled Essex County's best record. The Bengals belted Central, one of the two teams that had beaten them, to become the North Jersey Section 2 Champs. The invincible nine were due for a bad day and it came against Hillside. The usual starting nine included: Stan Aquilino, catcher; Stan Lipinski, first base; Joe Gasparini, second base; Allie Barrow, shortstop; Tony Sarno, third base; Dave Kolodin, Bob Pascal, and Joe Rosania, outfielders; and John Bukowski, pitcher.

Outside of Johnny "Bo's" great pitching, the Bengals had as great an infield as any school could ever boast. Of this great infield, two stalwarts shone bright, Tony Sarno and Joe Gasparini. Although the Bengals were supposed to be weak in hitting, Tony Sarno and Joe Gasparini carried the club with a better than 350 average a piece. Counteracting the old baseball prophecy that pitchers cannot hit, Johnny Bukowski always got his share plus a couple of homers. More than once, Johnny won his own ball game. Came the All-County awards and Bloomfield placed three: Tony Sarno, Joe Gasparini, and John Bukowski. Summing up, the Bengals had a winning season to commemorate Coach Foley's last season as head baseball coach.

TRACK AND CROSS COUNTRY

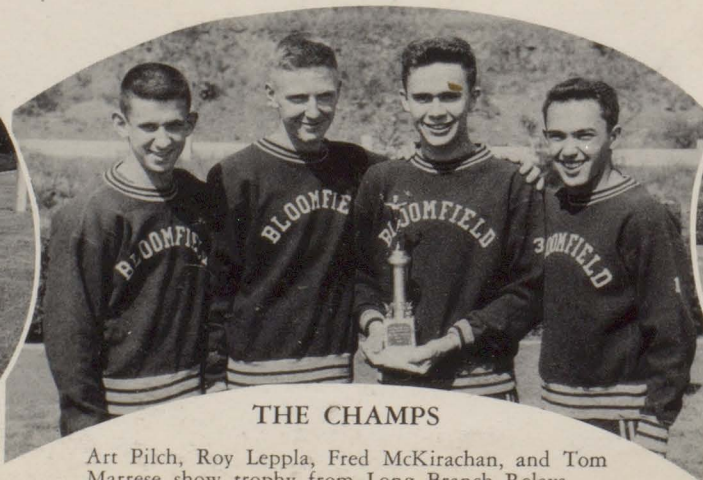

All Bengal track teams have been a threat in New Jersey, mainly because of their sprinters. The 1951 edition, however, featured an all-round good team. This was shown in their record, which was marred only by an invincible Columbia team. Coach Lowan's tracksters hit a final peak when Fred McKirachan, Roy Leppla, Art Pilch, and Tom Marrese won the Long Branch Relays. The Bengal tracksters have entered such meets as the Seton Hall Relays, the Penn Relays, Newark Board Meet, Long Branch Relays, and the State Meet. They competed with the following schools in dual meets: Glen Ridge, Clifford Scott, Montclair, Weequahic, Columbia, Nutley, Belleville, Barringer, and West Orange. The team, led by Fred McKirachan, included such stalwarts as Roy Leppla,

The outstanding performers of the club were Art Pilch, Fred McKirachan, and Roy Leppla, who set a new B. H. S. mile-run record.

An early feature of the sprinting campaign comes in the fall when the Cross Country team is in operation. The harriers, coached by Coach Arnsdorf, won eight, while losing only two. The Bengals were led by Larry Decker and Bob White and ably assisted by Don Neubert. The reason for the Harriers' final record is that either White or Decker has finished first in every race. The most outstanding victories of the year were those over Paterson; East Side; Newark; South Side; Kearny, which is always one of the state's best; Rutherford; and Irvington.

Our golf team had a very successful season this past spring. They won six matches, lost four, and tied one. Bob Axt was high man with a total score of eighty-six, followed by Dan Finegan with eighty-eight, and Dick Ward with ninety-two. Other members of the team are George Elias, Charles Hock, and Walter Paluck. Mr. Norman Claxton is the instructor. The matches were played at different golf courses throughout Essex County. The season began April 19 with Bloomfield meeting Caldwell. May 28 was the last date in the season.

FENCING

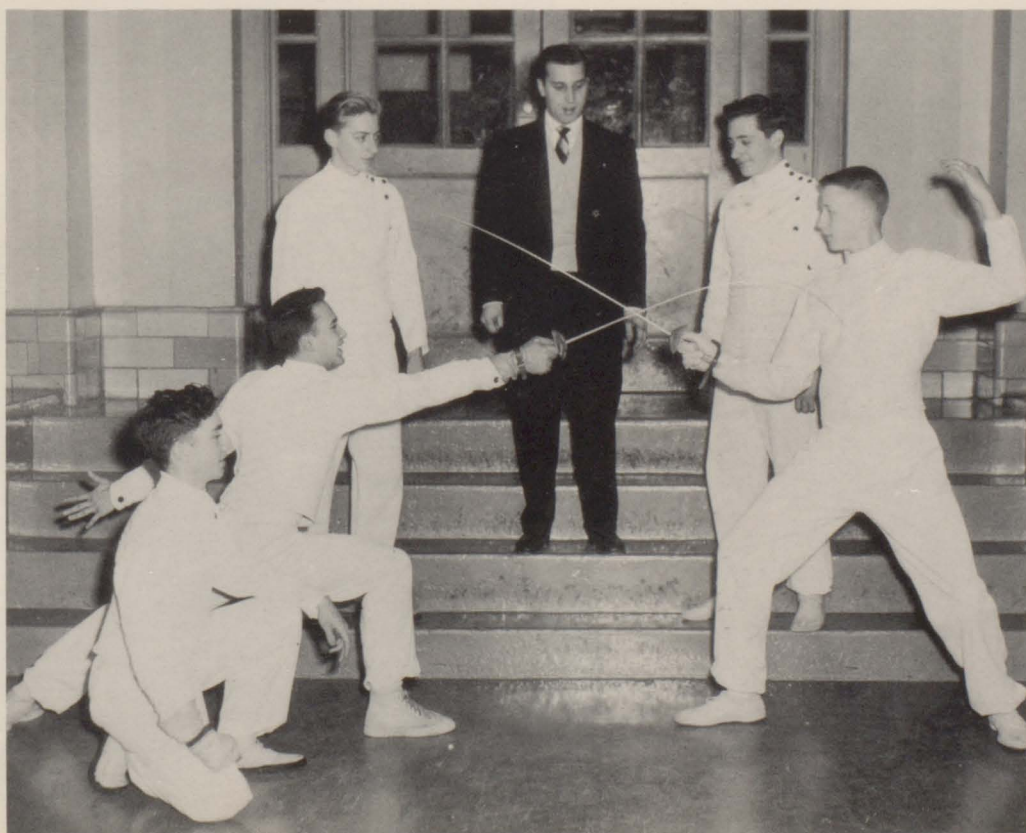

The outstanding records achieved by our Fencing Team during the past few years have aroused much spirit from the students. This year's record is no exception. They won ten meets and lost two. The team took second place in the Metropolitan Interscholastic Championship meet. Tom Marrese, Dave Grundy, Jerry Breslow, Art Klos, Dick Busciglia, George Ottley, Martin Van Riper, Ray Miller, and Faust LaScala comprise this year's team. The fencing team was organized in 1945. Vincent Surdi is the coach.

BOYS' INTRAMURALS

BOWLING

How's that for a record?

A sure strike.

BASKETBALL

One of the most important intra-curricular activities at B. H. S. is boys' intramurals. The boys have two divisions: the Bowling League and the Early Bird Basketball League.

Every Friday afternoon at three o'clock the Bengal bowlers are in action at the Broad and Bay Bowling Alleys. The ten teams play two rounds each season. The five top bowlers in the league comprise a Bloomfield team which has entered the new North Jersey Bowling League and finished second. The team bowls at the Four Towers Alleys in Cedar Grove and is composed of Joe Zack, Dick Wehner, Charles Morgan, Jerry Breslow, John Dear, and Don Fleischer.

The Early Bird League is divided into three leagues according to classes, and each league champ plays the others for the school championship. The League has about twenty teams and enrolls about 130 boys each season. The real fun comes in trying to get to the game on time, that is 6:45 in the morning.

MISS RUSSELL

The senior girls wish to express their gratitude for the many ideals which Miss Russell has inspired in them, for the patience she has shown them, and for the generosity with which she has given them her time. The girls will always remember their experiences on any one of the teams she coached, but most of all they will remember her.

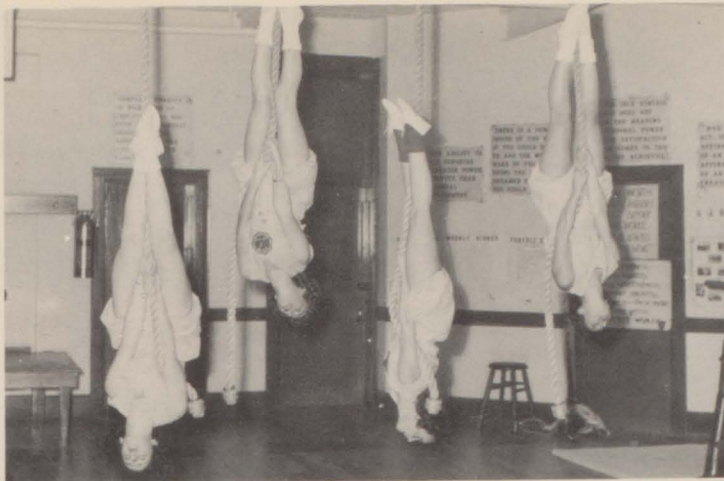

Captain and Co-Captains: Pat Hollingsworth, Janet Rust, Edithe Jurew.

ARCHERY

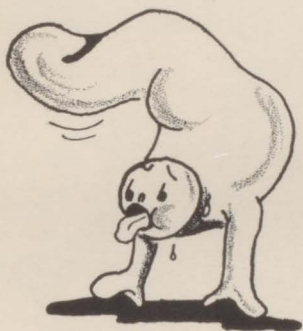

The Girls' Archery Team is made up of thirty talented girls, nine of whom are seniors. These feminine Robin Hoods have won many awards, including the National Interscholastic Championship, which they held for the past twelve years. Under the very capable leadership of Miss Russell, the girls have won title after title giving Bloomfield High a prominent place on the map.

The Tumbling Team does some chin stands.

For 160 girls in B. H. S. the day would not be complete without the fun and companionship provided by the Senior and Junior Gym Teams. To perform a perfect chest stand on the parallels or a backward twist on the rings is the goal of each member of the groups.

With the coming of their annual event, the Gym Exhibition in March, every Tuesday and Thursday find them not only trying their skills on the ropes, rings, and parallels, but also running through the dance routines which demand a large portion of their busy schedule.

GYM TEAMS

As the lively strains of "Loch Lomond" filled Foley Field, thirty-two senior girls, concentration marked in their faces, clad in blue jackets, sharp red plaid skirts, and topped by pert little Scotch hats, marched onto the field to entertain the many spectators at the Bloomfield-Kearny football game last October. They were well applauded as they performed the intricate figures of their routine.

They thrilled the audience at Madison Square Garden, where they marched last December, and also at the half of the Rutgers-Manhattan basketball game in February.

These lassies spend many hours getting their precision and routines down pat. Certainly, they deserve a big hand for all their work.

DRILL TEAMS

LEADERS CLUB

The Leaders Club, under the direction of Mrs. Seely, planned better and more interesting gym classes. They introduced new and varied activities into the program and devised the marking system now in use. This club consists of a captain, checker, equipment manager, and squad leaders from each of Mrs. Seely's gym classes.

One of the club's projects was the sale of hats inscribed with the initials B. H. S. A "Couples' Dance" was given, and with the proceeds gym suits were purchased for the club members. The girls also ordered chains upon which the school seal was inscribed.

Who but "Ma" Seely could be in charge of so many activities—intramural sports, twirlers, Leaders Club—and still come out with an ever cheerful smile? The girls agree that

MRS. SEELY

Mrs. Seely's kind assistance with their problems will be sorely missed next year. Many thanks to her for the part she played in our days at B. H. S.

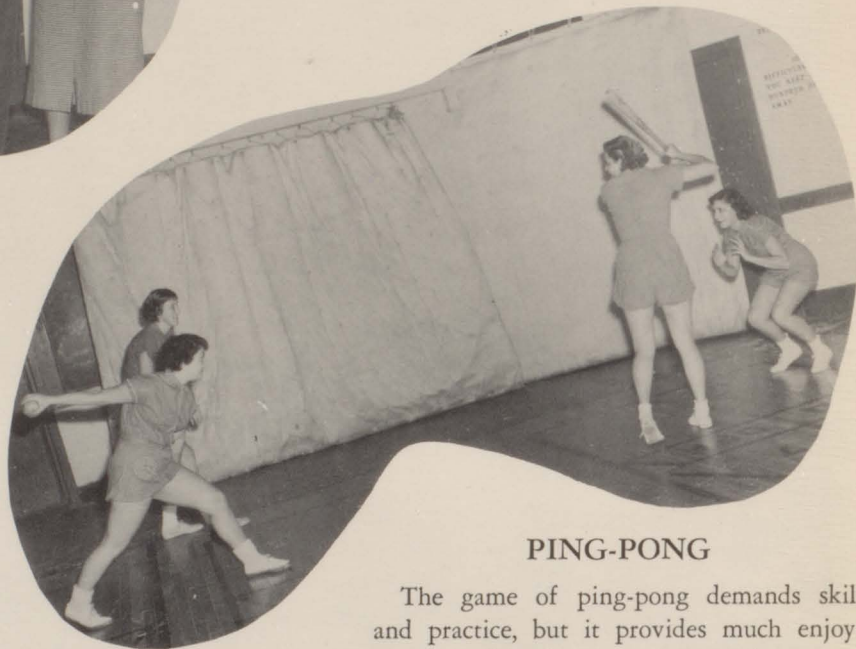

BOWLING

If you are in the mood for some humor, you might stop in at the Broad and Bay Bowling Alleys some Tuesday afternoon. There you would find about sixty girls having lots of fun bowling, much to the detriment of the pin boys. The girls are divided up into teams, which play each other according to an elimination plan. This group of potential bowlers is coached and instructed by Mrs. Seely.

BASEBALL

Come spring, come baseball, and as usual many girls took part. Many good times, exciting games, and friendships were gained through teamwork.

PING-PONG

The game of ping-pong demands skill and practice, but it provides much enjoyment to the players and entertainment to the onlookers. The ping-pong games and tournaments were open to the boys and girls this year. The badminton and ping-pong seasons were coincidental.

VOLLEY BALL

Among the more popular of the girls' intramural sports is volley ball. The volley ball games are played on the Wednesday afternoons following the basketball season. The winners of the intra-class tournament play in the inter-class tournament, and the winning team of the latter is declared the undisputed girls' volley ball champs.

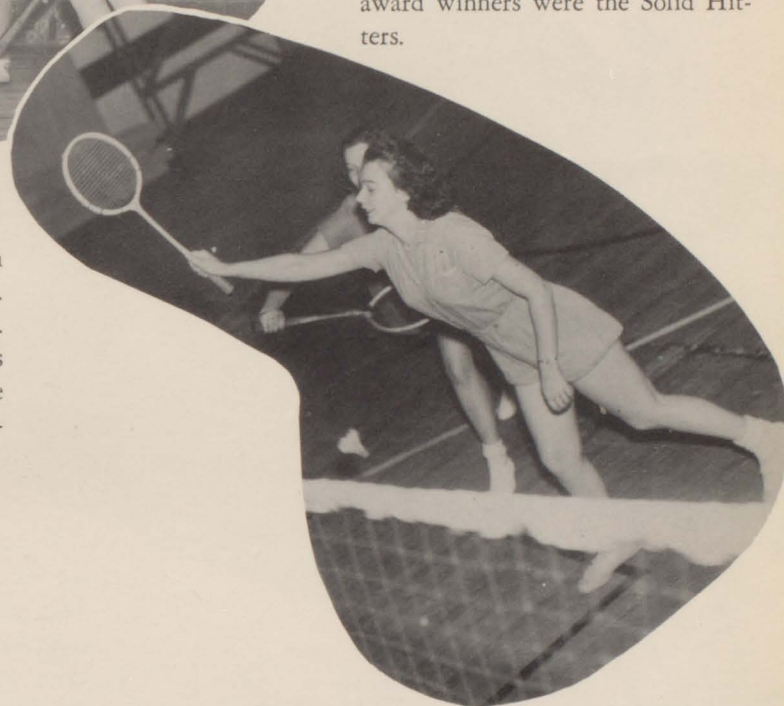

HOCKEY

With the crispness of the fall air and shouts of "ground-sticks," the girls' intramural sports program for this year began. As hinted above, hockey was first on the girls' athletic agenda. Each Wednesday afternoon the girls, garbed in dungarees or gym suits, gathered with their sticks and shinguards at Brookdale Park. This year the award winners were the Solid Hitters.

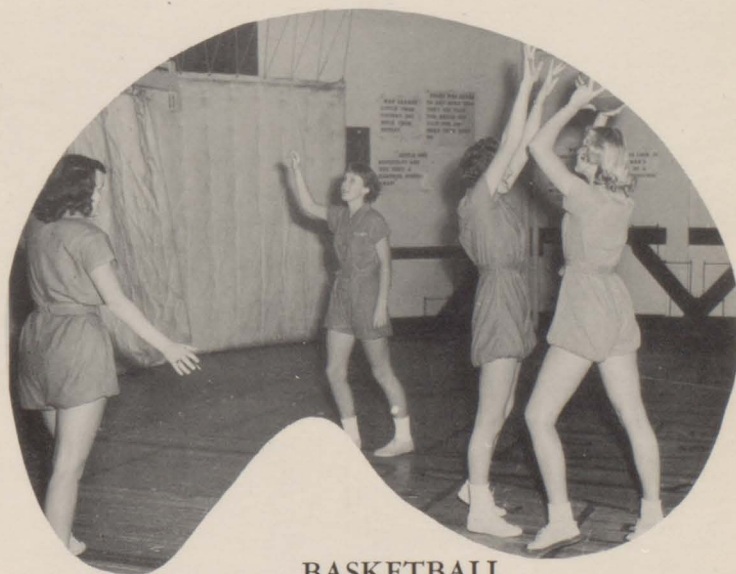

BADMINTON

With an eye on the shuttlecock and a hand on the racket, both the girls and the boys of B. H. S. take part in the always popular game of badminton. Badminton is one of the two co-educational sports sponsored at Bloomfield High. The games take place in the girls' gym on Wednesday afternoons, following the volley ball season.

SWIMMING

The girls of B. H. S. have learned that increased skill in swimming will bring increased enjoyment. Over two hundred of our girls in the fall and spring seasons take part in the program offered at the Orange "Y." There are ten one-hour sessions which include lessons in beginner, intermediate, and advanced swimming, also diving and water ballet.

BASKETBALL

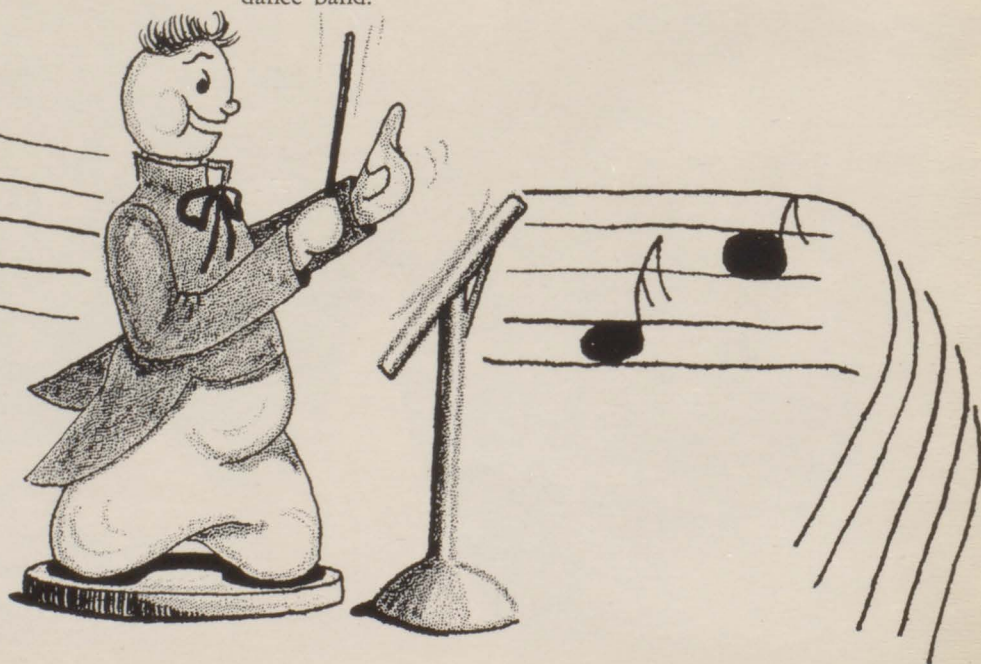

The girls' basketball season by far arouses the most interest. Much sportsmanlike rivalry is evident in the intra- and inter-class games, held in the gym on Wednesday afternoons of the winter season. The only undefeated team and the winners of the silver balls were the Giddy Gals, all seniors.

INSTRUMENTAL

SWING SERENADERS

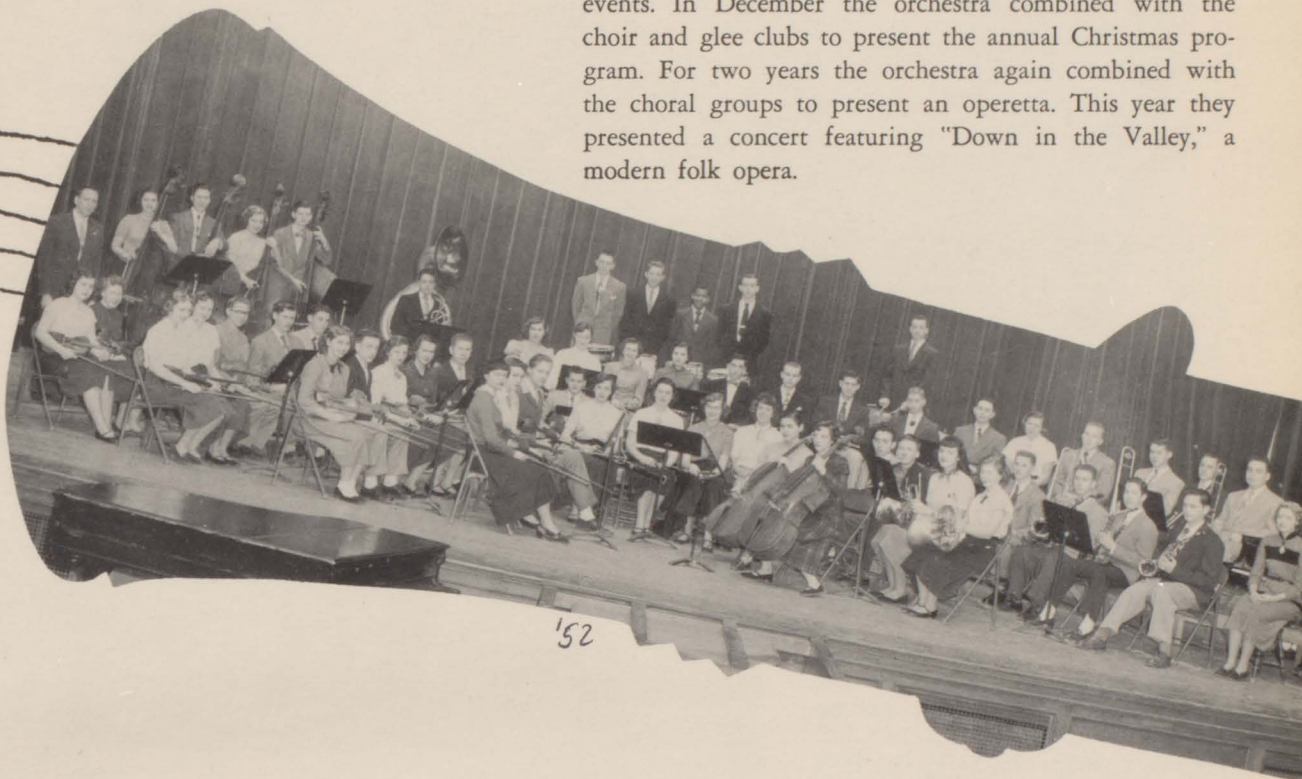

During October of every year a group of musically minded fellows co-ordinate their talents to form the Swing Serenaders. This year they were fortunate in having twenty members. Their repertoire consists of many popular dance pieces. They do receive small fees for playing on various occasions; but their first appearance, which is the P. B. A. sponsored Hallowe'en Dance, is free of charge. The concert is the next big challenge, for they make up one-third of it. This year the "cats" worked up a number of playing on soft drink bottles. The boys derived much pleasure and gained valuable experience by playing in a real dance band.

MUSIC

ORCHESTRA

Our orchestra takes part in a variety of school music events. In December the orchestra combined with the choir and glee clubs to present the annual Christmas program. For two years the orchestra again combined with the choral groups to present an operetta. This year they presented a concert featuring "Down in the Valley," a modern folk opera.

CONCERT BAND

With a few changes, the Marching Band is transformed into the Concert Band. This band presents an annual concert in March. The final big event of the school year is their playing for commencement. When the seniors, as members of the band, play for the last time, they will look back on three years of hard work, good music, and fellowship never to be forgotten.

VOCAL

CHOIR

Music, music, music! That is the theme of our talented choral groups. The A Cappella Choir, which is the best known, participates in many activities both in and outside of school. This group, with a membership of eighty, sings for school programs, church organizations, Home and School Associations, and service clubs. This year their most outstanding performances were the Christmas program and Spring Festival. The choir presented sacred and secular arrangements.

The other groups are the Mixed, Boys', and Girls' Glee Clubs, consisting of seventy-five, thirty-five, and forty members respectively. These organizations participate in school assemblies and musical programs which are appreciated by everyone.

"THE FORTUNE TELLER"

One of the memorable events of our junior year was the music department's production of Victor Herbert's "The Fortune Teller," under the direction of Miss Edith Albinson and Miss Ellen Hynson. It was a comic opera set in Hungary. The story tells of mistaken identities and of Count Berezowski's search for a certain rich heiress to be his bride. This maiden was to be identified by an ancient bracelet worn on her left wrist. The search was begun in the Opera Ballet School. With the aid of the ballet master, Fresca, each of the students was examined. The missing heiress Irma was found among them. The marriage, however, was not pleasing to her for she loved the handsome captain of the Hussars, Ladislav. While preparations were made for the wedding, a band of gypsies appeared. One of these, the fortune teller Musette, obtained the fateful bracelet and was mistaken by the Count for Irma, whom she closely resembled. Meantime, Irma, by impersonating her twin brother, disappeared. Eventually the masquerades were discovered and events straightened out, but not until they had provided us with a most enjoyable and unforgettable evening.

Parliamentary Procedure.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Our Student Council originates from an election held at the beginning of the school year. The first meeting or so is held to assign committees and get the group in order. When this is done, the president, with the help of the advisers, presents a project to be worked on and completed by the end of school. This year's project is revising the now outmoded handbook. The Council's first task is starting the canteen at Westinghouse. They sell the tickets and set up a committee to see that the canteen is run properly. Near the end of the football season the Football Queen dance is run. In it the Queen for that season is crowned. The profits from the dance go to pay for all the paid assemblies. Sometime at the beginning of spring the Council runs a carnival. In April of this year the Spring Dig opened for a night. Our Council ran the variety show part of it. The proceeds go to pay for the revised handbook.

STUDENT PRINTS

The spirit of Bloomfield High School is reflected in the issues of the school paper, the STUDENT PRINTS. Here a complete coverage of all school activities is written up by an efficient student staff. Ten issues of the PRINTS are published each year. The editor-in-chief and the associate editor plan an interesting news layout for the first and third pages, while the feature editor takes care of the second page. The sports editor gathers the sports news for the fourth page. Each editor has numerous jobs to fulfill—namely, make up the page, send out assignments, edit articles, write headlines, and read proof. The art editor sees to it that certain subjects are illustrated by clever cartoons. The photography editor's job is to take different pictures for the PRINTS. The exchange editor keeps in contact with the school papers in the surrounding high schools.

During the year the editors and some staff members attend different press conferences. The main conference of the year is the Columbia Press Conference held at Columbia University. At this conference, which lasts three days, several meetings are held to discuss various phases of journalism. Each member attends separate meetings so that more information is gathered. Different lectures and panel discussions are given to the entire group. Each paper is rated on the bases of typography, heads, news stories, editorials, sports, features, and advertising. Honors are given to better papers. The convention is terminated by a luncheon at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

The members of the STUDENT PRINTS staff are proud to be a part of B. H. S. school life and to be able to write about it in the paper.

LATIN CLUB

Our Latin Club enjoys the distinction of being the oldest club of its kind in America. This organization, advised by Miss Donoghue, endeavors to increase students' knowledge of Roman life. As service projects this year, the club donated a Thanksgiving dinner to a needy family and sent candy to the Italian Boys Town at Eastertime.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club was organized about thirty years ago when several students were interested in learning about the German way of life. Its many activities this year included a club bazaar and a hot dog roast. The club has its own orchestra and has fun learning the old country songs and dances.

ITALIAN CLUB

"Pass the pizza, please," is the mouth-watering expression that can often be heard at Italian Club social gatherings and dances. A busy year of such social events was brought to a close with an annual picnic. The Italian Club brings to the interest of its members the lively Italian music, traditions, and culture.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR GIRL RESERVES

The Junior and Senior Girl Reserves are known throughout B. H. S. for their service work. This year both groups chose needy families in the community for whom they provided Thanksgiving dinners, Christmas presents, and clothes throughout the year. To carry on their service work the Senior Girl Reserves have sponsored two cake sales and a dance, while the Juniors have sponsored an apron sale and done volunteer work at the Community House. All, however, is not work for the Girl Reserves. Besides a business meeting they have an evening social meeting every month.

CAREERS FOR SECRETARIES CLUB

There's been an addition to the family! The Careers for Secretaries is our newest club. It was started this year by Mrs. Richardson and twenty senior girls. Membership is restricted to senior girls who are taking Secretarial Training and have two years of Stenography.

One of the oldest clubs in our school, the Home Economics Club, is still very popular with the girls. Its twenty-five members are kept busy with a variety of projects. This Christmas, gifts were bought for the Old Ladies Home, and they sold leis at the Spring Dig. In May they held their annual Mother-Daughter banquet.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

This club is a comparatively new one of three years. Among its many purposes is to stimulate interest in the world and its inhabitants. To promote brotherhood, to develop that high type of leadership so necessary to insure a better world, to aid in fostering an interest in history, and to learn of those whose achievements in this field are truly noteworthy are many of the things that go together to make up this worthwhile club.

Seated: John DeAngelis, Secretary. Standing: Joe Jannarone, President; Roger Brandell, Vice President; William Green, Treasurer; Mr. Benson, Adviser.

MECHANICS OF TRANSPORTATION CLUB

Anybody want his engine overhauled? If so, his best bet is the Mechanics of Transportation Club. The members of this club learn by examining and working on "real live" engines.

Seated: George Keller, Vice President; Frank Wisniewski, President; Walter Greenwood, Secretary. Standing: James Duncan, Treasurer; Miss Garb, Adviser.

MATH CLUB

"Try and stump me," dares an enthusiastic Math Club member. Trick problems and brushing up on the history of algebra keep these mathematicians busy. A definite interest and understanding of mathematics is shown in the annual Math Quiz Program given for the student body. Each of the twenty-five agree that math can really be fun.

BIOLOGY CLUB

"Scalpel, please," quips a biology clubber. These twenty-five members keep themselves busy dissecting and preserving specimens, making microscope surveys and projects, and going on field trips. All this was initiated by a group of students who in the fall of 1950 suggested the formation of the Biology Club. Now the biologists are really booming.

Mrs. Becker, Adviser; Bob Barnhard, President; Donald Fleischer, Vice President; Mary Janet Procissi, Secretary; Joel Notkin, Treasurer.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The odors that come from the fourth floor during activity periods can usually be attributed to the members of the Chemistry Club. Though many meetings are held after school, a large percentage of the Chem students are in Mrs. Becker's club, one of the largest in the school.

During the year the programs included guest speakers, field trips, and parties. The membership is limited to chemistry students.

LIBRARY CLUB

Miss Burke, Adviser; Marion Brown, Recording Secretary; Elsa Sinner, Vice President; Joan Brickell, President; Fred Quinn, Treasurer; Betty Larson, Corresponding Secretary; Miss Taylor, Adviser.

LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club, averaging thirty-five members, provides a service to the school by helping to carry on those duties necessary for the maintenance of the high school library. In addition, its members take part in the extra-curricular activities of our school and also participate in the meetings of the New Jersey School Library Council Association.

CHEFS' CLUB

One of our new clubs this year is the Chefs' Club. It meets during the regular club period and before school when it is necessary to have more time. This year the Chefs' Club participated in the Spring Dig and other school activities.

MUSICAL MONDAY CLUB

This club presents an opportunity for the musically talented members of the high school to come together to share their musical experiences. The club meets once a month. The Musical Monday Club holds an open meeting in May in the high school auditorium. The members enjoy good times and a deepening of their music appreciation.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The Delta Chapter of the National Honor Society, under the supervision of Mrs. Grill, meets the third Thursday of every month. To become a member, an applicant must have an average of B⁺ or higher. He must also fulfill the ideals of the Society: character, service, scholarship, and leadership. Application is made in the fall of the Junior year.

MAKE-UP CREW

The Make-Up Crew is one of the unseen but very essential groups of all school programs. It is truly a service organization. The Crew is constantly called upon to assist in plays, operettas, variety shows, football pageants, and the like. Each member is provided with technical training in theater make-up.

BOYS' TUMBLING CLUB

The Boys' Tumbling Club was organized to give interested boys a better chance to develop their tumbling and gymnastic skills. Mr. Claxton, as club adviser, has given valuable experience to the boys. Many types of activities, such as parallel bars, springboard, and trampoline, are offered.

Dick Bingham, President; Jerry Laureyns, Vice President; Mr. Knakal, Adviser; Jim Corcoran, Secretary-Treasurer.

DISPLAY COMMITTEE

The attractive displays that are seen in the showcases are created by the Display Committee. This group of twenty-three plans and collects material of interest to the student body. Some of the displays this year have been based on unusual hobbies, foreign countries, and special holidays.

CAMERA CLUB

The Camera Club now advised by Mr. Kwakal, was organized in the fall of 1935 under the supervision of Mr. Urban. Its main purpose is to awaken an interest in photography among students and faculty. It also promotes the exchange of ideas by holding exhibits and contests to discuss each other's work.

PROJECTION CREW

The Projection Crew is made up of nine boys who devote one of their study periods to the work of this organization. There are films to be shown almost every day in 205. This crew also helps in making recordings and setting up the public address system for assemblies. Mr. Grill is the adviser.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The F. T. A., known officially as the Otto J. Walrath Club, sets as its goal the learning of opportunities in teaching and the cultivating of the qualities necessary in a good teacher. Membership is open to seniors of satisfactory character and scholarship. Many F. T. A. members have acted as substitute teachers in the grade schools.

SCHOOL STORE

As shown by the accompanying picture, many of our Distributive Education students received actual experience in all the branches of merchandising. The students who worked in the store were able to apply the practices taught in their courses. "Penny Pincher's Paradise" specializes in wearing apparel and stationery items.

FINIS

We are the victims of inertia. We tend to continue doing what we are doing and are reluctant to change. Now that our high school days are at an end, we don't feel overjoyed at leaving. We cannot reason, though, that leaving Bloomfield High School is an example of simple inertia, such as our daily struggle to get out of bed in the morning. On the contrary, it has become complicated and stronger with each succeeding year. Life-long friendships have been made; new horizons of learning and living have been opened to us; we have enjoyed many good times together. Combined, these experiences form something we have tried to capture throughout this yearbook—the spirit of Bloomfield High School. Because of this, the necessity for breaking that force of inertia is difficult.

Yet the time has come for us to leave. We have just finished an important chapter in our lives. When we finish a good book, we may put it down reluctantly; similarly we leave Bloomfield High. For each of us, though, the future is bright and challenging and new. It is our turn to accept the challenge in the relay race of time. The runner is rapidly approaching our outstretched arm. We have been getting in condition, and we are ready to accept the baton he is holding in his hand. Soon we will be running the rugged cross-country course. Indifference, inertia, and pessimism will tend to make us relax and sit under a tree for awhile. We cannot fall prey to these forces, or we will lose the great race. Our opponents are running neck and neck with us; democracy, our way of life, is being threatened. This is no time for us to falter. With a strong determination we must forge ahead—ahead to an age perhaps entirely different from the one we are familiar with, but with a renewed sense of our duty and obligation to mankind. We shall not fail in our common objective, to make the world a better place to live in.

ALMA MATER

(Words and Music by A. D. Crosby, 1931)

There's a High School in New Jersey,
Dear Old Bloomfield, bless her name,
And we've loved her, yes we've loved her
Since the day when first we came,

So all hail! To Alma Mater,
And pledge eternally
To live and die for Bloomfield High
In love and loyalty.

TO THE STAFF:

To us was entrusted much, and through us much has been accomplished. The fruition of all our efforts has at last been realized. We can now, (thank goodness!), pause and with a swell of pride, look back over the pages of this, our own creation.

As we leaf through, we discover that each page itself contains a book of memories for us. These memorable experiences of working together toward a common goal have enriched our backgrounds immeasurably. For some it has even indicated a possible career. All of this would have been impossible, but for the splendid work of both staff and advisers.

TO THE READER:

This message concludes the seventh edition of MEMORIES. In following a time hallowed tradition we, the staff, editors, and advisers, have attempted to recount the record of three of the happiest years of your lives and ours. Furthermore, we sincerely hope that these three wonderful years will be but a chapter in your book of glorious memories.
